A method of processing an input signal to produce a system output signal, the method comprising:

"predistorting, via applying a deliberate predistortion, said input signal to provide a predistorted signal represented as a sequence of magnitude and phase pairs; wherein said decomposing comprises receiving said sequence of magnitude and phase pairs and producing therefrom said at least two component signals, each of said at least two component signals exhibiting a respective magnitude and having a respective varying phase, said respective magnitudes of at least two of said at least two component signals being substantially equal" as disclosed in claim 12.
